JAPS ON CHINA SOIL

Forty Thousand of Them Landed Near Shanghai-Kwan.

A GREAT STRATEGIC POINT.

If This Power Is Captured There Is Nothing to Prevent the Japanese From Marching on to Peking—Another Skirmish Just North of the Yalu River—The Latest War News.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 11.—Various local rumors are in circulation, the most prominent being that 40,000 Japanese troops have landed near Shanghai Kwan, on the boundary between the Chinese provinces of Manchuria and Chi-Li, at the eastern end of the great wall which traverses China. The telegraph wires have been cut, thus hindering communication with that district.

A report, which is classed here as unreliable, says that the Japanese have effected a landing near New-Chuang, Gulf of Loao-Ton.

According to a letter received here from Tien-Tsin during the progress of a large fire there on Friday last, the China Merchants Godown volunteers protected the settlement and are now patrolling the streets from sunset to sunrise.

It is reported here that several Japanese warships have been sighted off Takuan.

A dispatch received here from Tien-Tsin states that the British and Russian ministers have arrived there and that they will proceed at once to Peking.

Another report, which reaches this city states that after a skirmish which took place north of the Yalu river Tuesday, the Japanese outposts were driven back across the river.

Advices received here from Port Arthur say that the repairs to the Chinese fleet which was engaged in the battle off the Yalu river have been completed and that the fleet will proceed to sea today.

Shanghai-Kwan, where the Japanese are reported to have landed 40,000 troops, is directly on the railroad building from Tien-Tsin to Moukden, and is of great strategic importance. In fact, the opinion has been expressed that if Shanghai-Kwan is captured there is nothing to prevent the Japanese from marching on Peking. A Japanese fleet was reported to have been sighted off Shanghai-Kwan on Sept. 28.

Chinese Troops Waiting For Arms.
LONDON, Oct. 11.—A dispatch from Shanghai says that tens of thousands of Chinese troops are waiting for arms. It is supposed that the reserve stores of rifles and cartridges have been found not to exist. Many of the troops sent to the front had no better arms than jingals and bows and arrows. Additional contracts have been entered into with German firms for supplies of firearms of any pattern. These firms charged exorbitant prices for the delivery of their supplies at European ports, and China takes the risk of transportation to Shanghai or other Chinese ports.

There Must Be No Outside Interference.
LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Times, in an editorial article, contends that any attempt on the part of the powers to stop the war between China and Japan must fail unless supported by a tremendous display of force, which, it says, is out of the question. "The power taking the initiative," it says, "would make an enemy of the most powerful and progressive nation in the east, without advancing the cause of peace and humanity a jot. China and Japan must be allowed to fight out their quarrel."

JAPANESE AGGRESSION.
Where Will It End?—Points Learned From The Yalu Battle.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—The Journal prints a letter from Rolls Tooker, proprietor of the Hong-Kong hotel, under date of Sept. 15, in which he says that the restless spirit of war has affected all the money population of that seaport. No one knows where Japanese aggression is to end. There is wide discussion over the lessons to be learned from the recent Yalu sea battle, the most important of which is the necessity of fast sea cruises. Second Assistant Engineer Purdy of the fleet Chen Yuen is in Hong-Kong, and from his account of the battle it seems certain if the Chinese admiral had had a fast cruiser or two with which to reconnoiter and ascertain the approach and strength of the enemy his big ships would not have been hemmed in close to shore within 20 minutes after he first saw the smoke of the Matsushima.

As it was he was quite helpless, being unable to maneuver at all and fearing to permit the Japanese vessels to get between him and the shore. It is also pointed out that if the Japanese had had reserve vessels, one or two men-of-war that could have been brought up as the Chinese fleet was escaping, the fleet could have been utterly destroyed. Naval officers who have studied the battle at close quarters declare war between naval powers will hinge upon the ability of navy yards to make repairs quickly and the strength of the reserve, and adds that the recent engagement was worth millions of pounds to England.

No Livestock in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Oct. 11.—Nebraska cattlemen are complaining at the Omaha Union stockyards that unless some measures are adopted there will be no livestock in Nebraska next year. On all lines leading out of the state, livestock is being shipped to feeding grounds out of Nebraska. They are selling very low. This is the result of a scarcity of food incident to the drouth.

THE TYPO.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 11.—The third day's session of the International Typographical union opened at 9 o'clock. The minutes of Tuesday's session were laid before the members in printed form, and were approved without reading.

Several matters were laid before the members in the shape of circulars from the pressmen's union and from the machine operators.

The Commercial club of Indianapolis sent a communication asking the international union to meet in that city next year. It was referred and will come up in its regular order.

The death of L. M. Duffy of Montreal, a former delegate to the convention, was announced and referred for appropriate action.

Mr. Owen of Louisville offered a resolution instructing the president to appoint a committee of five to see if The Courier Journal office could not be unionized. The resolution was adopted and the committee will be appointed.

Mr. Hastie of Chicago offered a resolution that the boycott inaugurated by the Chicago union against Rand, McNally & Company be endorsed by the International union. The resolution was adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Mr. Martell of St. Louis offered a resolution to endorse the boycott inaugurated by the St. Louis union on Buckner & Skinner, job printers of St. Louis.

A communication was read asking that the permanent headquarters of the International union be located in Washington. It was referred to a committee.

President Prescott appointed special committees on shorter hours, on McGarvey and McNamee appeal cases, on application of linotype machinists for a charter.

President Prescott called for the nomination of officers of the International union for the ensuing year. Mr. McNuth of Boston placed in nomination William B. Prescott, Mr. Moore of Wilkesbarre nominated John W. Hastie of Chicago, and Mr. Connell of Dayton nominated Robert Tilney of Cincinnati. The nominations were closed with these three.

Theodore Perry of Nashville and W. E. Greenfield of Washington were placed in nomination for first vice president.

A. G. Wines of St. Louis was nominated for secretary treasurer.

The following district organizers were confirmed by the convention: First district—George J. Curtin of Linn, Mass. Second district—Thomas McHale of Albany. Third district—James H. Powers of Washington. Fourth district—W. H. Wells of Norfolk. Fifth district—Jacob Itell of Savannah. Sixth district—John D. Flannag of Grand Rapids. Seventh district—J. K. Brewer of Springfield, Ill. Eighth district—J. A. Lane of Knoxville. Ninth district—W. E. Marwell of St. Louis. Tenth district—D. S. Woodward of Minneapolis. Eleventh district—S. D. Needrey of Omaha. Twelfth district—H. M. Butler of Dallas. Thirteenth district—F. M. Pinno of Salt Lake City. Fourteenth district—Edward H. Park of San Francisco. Fifteenth district—C. E. Hawes of Seattle, Wash. Sixteenth district—James Reed of Toronto.

St. Paul, Indianapolis, Colorado Springs, Galveston and Syracuse were nominated for the next place of meeting. One of these cities will be selected.

A telegram was received from Governor Hogg of Texas, who said that he hoped the convention would see fit to select Galveston as the next place of meeting. Governor Hogg signed himself an old printer.

Mr. Toner of Washington introduced a resolution asking congress to restore the former rate of wages of government printers. The resolution was adopted without debate.

The convention adjourned at 7:30 o'clock.

A night session of half an hour's duration was held for the purpose of nominating a second vice president. Mr. James Meahan of Boston was nominated for the position, and the convention adjourned.

PREJUDICE AGAINST CORN

Rapidly Disappearing in Europe—New Market For Our Farmers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—In a letter just received from Colonel C. J. Murphy, one of the agents of the department of agriculture in Europe, he refers to the arrival at Brussels of the first carload of California wines ever shipped direct to Belgium from this country.

He also advises the department of extensive purchases by a leading commercial house in Belgium, which maintains 311 stores in the principal centers of the country of various sorts of American corn and other cereal products, such as hominy, cereals, cracked wheat, oatmeal, etc.

From another agent at Berlin the department has received a report on the growing use of maize in Europe for food both for man and beast. A thorough examination of the food rations of animals employed by 25 streetcar and omnibus lines of the leading cities of Europe shows that in every case maize is used to a considerable extent for horses, the rations consisting of from one-fourth to two-fifths corn.

The popular European prejudice against corn is rapidly disappearing, the use of maize in Germany alone having increased in the last 10 years from about 12,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels. Much of this corn comes from America, but a great deal of it from Roumania.

Jagson says you seldom see real concentration unless you find a man who is reading his own letter in a newspaper.

NINE PERSONS DEAD

Sixteen Others Badly Injured in New York.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING.

An Eight-Story Building Blew Down and Two Others Carried With It—The Place Filled With Sleeping Tenants Who Were Buried Under the Tremendous Mass of Ruins.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—During the storm yesterday morning a new 8-story building at 74 Monroe street collapsed, bearing down with it the house at 72 Monroe street and the rear extension of the building on the other side, No. 76. Both places were filled with sleeping tenants who were buried under the tremendous mass of ruins. The crash of the falling walls aroused the neighbors, who scantily clad began the work of rescue, which was continued well into the day by police and firemen. They mined far under the bricks and beams and mortar, and from out of the ruins they took the dead and injured.

The dead are:
I. I. Abrams, 40 years of age.
Mrs. Bessie Abrams, aged 40, wife of A. H. Abrams.
Rose Abrams, 18, daughter of I. I. and Mrs. Bessie Abrams.
Mrs. Bertina Karones, 50 years; board driven into abdomen.
Abraham Karones, her son, 9 years old.

Solomon Karones, her son, aged 29.
Mrs. Jennie Steinman, 6 years old.
Ell Abrams, aged 7, son of I. I. Abrams.

Meyer Steinman, aged 31, her son.
The injured are:
Alexander Abrams cut and bruised about the body.

Louis Abrams, badly cut about the face, scalp wounds and bruised on the body.

Bernard Abrams, cut and bruised about face and body.

James Brady, broken arm and scalp wounded.

May Brady, cut and bruised about face and breast.

Thomas J. Brady, right leg injured and cut about body.

Loretta Brady, badly cut about the face.

Jacob Karones, badly bruised.

Michael Karones, cut and injured internally.

David Karones, scalp wound and bruised.

Fannie Karones, bruised and cut.

Carl Karones, nose broken and otherwise injured.

Jacob Karones, leg broken and head bruised.

Unknown woman, injured about body.

Timothy Doolan, right arm broken.

George Robensky, scalp wound.

The new building at 74 Monroe street was eight stories high. It had been erected by A. Aaronowitz, proprietor of a foundry a block away. He built the new building for a foundry and its completion was celebrated Tuesday by hanging out flags and tapping a keg of beer.

Aaronowitz was arrested yesterday afternoon and arraigned before Justice Hogan in Essex Market police court. In spite of the fact that Aaronowitz was charged with homicide, Justice Hogan discharged him. He, however, issued subpoenas for Aaronowitz and David A. Molai, the contractor, who put up the building, to appear before him Thursday afternoon and explain their responsibility, if any, was for the disaster.

The structure, it is alleged by Thomas Brady, whose family occupied the rear of No. 75, was weak, and he says that he made complaints about it to the building inspector, but no attention had been paid to them.

FIRE IN A LODGING HOUSE.

One Person Killed and a Number Injured by Jumping From a Window.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—One man was killed and several others were seriously injured by jumping from the third-story windows of a Swedish lodging house in Hanover street which caught fire just before 2 o'clock this morning. Two men killed was a Swede, a Dane named Swenson.

Woman and Child Hacked to Pieces.

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 11.—Word has reached here from Barnard, 20 miles southeast of the murder of Mrs. J. C. T. Miller and 10-year-old niece. Miller has a 100-acre farm, and was out hunting with a party Tuesday night. When he returned he found his wife and niece cut and hacked to pieces and blood all over the furniture and walls. Robbery may have been the motive, as $40 in money was taken. The sheriff has sent for bloodhounds to put on the trail.

Two More Deaths.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 11.—Two more men are dead as the result of the explosion of dust at the New Castle mine Tuesday. They are G. Dobson and Davis J. Lloyd. It is feared that two more will die, which will bring the fatalities up to five. Giles, the colored driver, is still unconscious and can not live long. Coroner Horton and Mining Inspector Edmunds are on the ground and an inquest will be held.

THE LAST SCENE.

Oliver Wendell Holmes Laid to Rest in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—A small gathering of loving friends and a few words of impressive import from the lips of a life-long companion and co-worker, marked the simple rites over the body of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes at Kings chapel yesterday. At 12 o'clock the procession bearing the body of the deceased poet filed into the church with Mr. Edward Everett Hale at its head.

Upon the casket rested a laurel wreath which nearly covered it. The Bohemian club of San Francisco sent a large basket of white chrysanthemums with maidenhair fern. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe sent a wreath of pansies and maidenhair fern, a wreath of palms, violets and orchids bore the name of Fred Stenson, the theatrical manager, while the university class of '87, of Oxford college, Ohio, sent a handsome bunch of lilies of the valley.

The services consisted of a few recitations from the Scripture by Dr. Hale and selections by the quartette. There was no eulogy. Among those present were Rev. G. Arbuthnot of the vicarage of Stratford-on-Avon, England, representing the trustees of Shakespeare's birthplace; Lieutenant Governor Roger Walcott, Rev. Samuel May and Rev. S. F. Smith, author of the hymn "America," both classmates of Dr. Holmes in Harvard. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 11.—Yesterday morning August Heubbaum, 80 years old, a prominent German-American citizen, committed suicide because he was afflicted with insomnia. He used an old army musket loaded with shot, and pulled the trigger with a forked stick, which he had cut from the brush outside the city where he commuted the dead. He had taken a dose of strichline previous to the shooting, but too much to kill.

FORTY LIVES LOST.

Destructive Gale Sweeps the Newfoundland Coast.

FIFTY FISHING VESSELS WRECKED

Three Hundred Vessels in the Port at St. John's, Not a Single One of Which Escaped Without Sustaining Some Damage. Damage Done All Along the Atlantic Coast.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Oct. 11.—A north-east gale of exceptional force swept over this island Tuesday night. The storm was very severe at St. Pierre, Miquelon, where 30 lives were lost and great damage was done. A very heavy sea was running in the harbor. All the vessels at anchor there put out extra anchors and took other measures to outlive the gale, but notwithstanding this the maritime casualties were many. Not less than 50 vessels dragged their anchors or parted their cables and were thrown upon the shore.

Every effort made to claw off shore was fruitless, the gale blowing with such tremendous fury that even storm canvas could not be set. Some of the doomed vessels were thrown ashore in very exposed places, and the great seas breaking over them soon pounded them to pieces. No assistance could be rendered the shipwrecked men from the shore. A number of them who jumped overboard and attempted to reach the shore by swimming were drowned, while others were swept into the sea by the waves coming over their vessels and were not seen again until their bodies were cast up on the beach.

The wrecked vessels were part of the fishing fleet that had put into St. Pierre from the Banks to repair damages they had sustained during the heavy storm of Sept. 30.

Altogether there were nearly 300 vessels at the port, not a single one of which escaped without sustaining some damage. Several of the fleet are missing and grave fears are entertained that they foundered during the night.

ALONG THE ATLANTIC COAST

Boston, Oct. 11.—The hurricane and rainstorm which struck the New England coast during Tuesday night and which passed over Boston yesterday, has gone toward the northeast. Although the rain has ceased here and the sky is clear, the wind, which has veered to eastward, is only slightly decreased in velocity.

A schooner is reported ashore near the rocks of Normans Woe, off Gloucester, Massachusetts.

The schooner Adeline of Bangor, Me., 64 tons, dragged anchor in Gloucester harbor and went ashore on Dolliver's neck. She broke up in 10 minutes. The crew were rescued.

Reports of damage to shipping are being constantly received, and the loss of property will be considerable, but only a few cases have been fatal.

Barge Sunk and Four Persons Drowned.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Oct. 11.—Four persons were drowned by the sinking of a barge in tow of the tug Belle McWilliams in Lloyd's Harbor yesterday. They were John Murphy, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Julia Murphy, Michael Murphy, a son, and an infant of the latter, all of New York city. There were in the cabin of the barge Jennie Singh when the vessel went to pieces on the rocks.

Two Vessels Ashore.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 11.—The Norwegian bark Ogar, from Barbados, for Wilmington, went ashore at 9 p. m. Tuesday near the mouth of the Fear river. The crew was taken off by life-savers. The vessel is a total loss. Schooner John H. Cross, from Providence, to Brunswick, Ga., is high and dry on the beach near Lockwood's Falls, N. C. All the crew are safe.

Schooner Stranded.

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 11.—The three-masted schooner Laurena Reed of Somerset Point, N. J., laden with coal, stranded abreast of the Ocean City lifesaving station yesterday, and will be a total wreck. The crew took to the rigging as soon as the vessel struck and were taken off four hours later by the lifesaving crew.

Lifesavers to the Rescue.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 11.—A 2-masted schooner, lumber laden, is ashore on Trundy's reef. An unknown schooner is ashore on a reef off Cape Elizabeth. Her masts were gone and every sea broke over her. In spite of a raging surf, the lifesaving crew started for the wreck and have not yet returned.

Drifted Out to Sea.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 11.—An unknown three-masted schooner passed the life saving station yesterday with all her sails gone. She was running helplessly before a northeast gale. The tug Aquidneck was sent to her assistance. When she went outside, however, the schooner had blown to sea.

Crew Escaped.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 11.—The two-masted schooner Green County of Albany is ashore on the east side of Dutch island, and is pounding heavily on the rocks. Her crew have reached shore.

Several Ships Missing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A special from St. Pierre says: A terrible northeast gale raged here all day yesterday. Several ships are missing and are believed to have foundered with 200 lives.

Generally fair weather, preceded by local showers on lakes in early morning; no change in temperature.

Any cause is hard pushed when it calls on Ingersoll, the infidel, to defend and bolster it up.

The Democrats of Greenup County are wide awake and are giving their opponents the hardest fight in years. They have started a paper—the Truth—and are making things lively all along the line. The last issue of The Truth is filled with strong articles setting forth some facts about the sugar, wool and other questions.

Some of the Bath County Republicans wanted to put a full ticket in the field and others didn't, and as a consequence there's war in the camp. The Republican candidate for Congress has probably been pulling the strings over there like he did in this Appellate district. Everything is being worked in the interest of the Congressional race. The Boss' orders have been issued.

The Arkansas Valley Democrat "hits the nail on the head" in the following: "Republican papers are bragging because some rich Louisiana planters have left the Democratic party and turned Republicans on account of losing the sugar bounty. Of course men who expect Government aid in the form of bounties, subsidies and a protective tariff, will go to the Republican party for it. By taxing the people and dividing the swag the Republicans have held power thirty-two years. But who would believe that Republicans themselves would boast of buying Louisiana votes with a sugar bounty?"

HI! THERE, BROTHER DAVIS.

"Business Reviving—The Outlook Encouraging—New York Merchants Talk About the Improved Situation—Extensive Preparations to Meet the Growing Trade—What the Great Houses Have Done."

These headlines stand over an article which occupies a whole page. Much of the matter consists of interviews with business men, which go somewhat further than the headlines. Many of the business men expressly attribute the revival to the passage of the tariff bill, and one of them says that "some of the brands of carpet which were beyond the reach of some people because of high prices have been reduced so that working-men can afford to buy them."

This is not a Democratic "campaign lie,"—the Tribune is the leading Republican journal in the country.

IS THIS ROBBERY?

If It Is Not, What Should It Be Called?

American-Made Goods Sold to Foreigners at Lower Prices Than to Our Own People

The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin of New York is publishing a series of articles on "Export and Home Prices." Although this question has been agitated for several years, but few yet realize the extent to which foreigners are favored by our protected manufacturers. To most people, says Byron W. Holt, a writer on this subject, it is incomprehensible that our manufacturers, enjoying the benefits of our protective tariff laws, should think of selling cheaper to foreigners than to Americans. Yet there is no lack of evidence as to the enormity of this fraud perpetrated upon our hard-working, law-abiding people. Nobody engaged in the export trade will deny that many articles are sold cheaper to foreigners; and some exporters will tell you, confidentially, that nearly every manufactured article is sold cheaper for export. One big exporter in New York, who has been many years in the business, offers to bet a good hat that a manufactured article cannot be named that is not sold at a lower price for export than in the home market.

The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin prints the figures of an actual bill of sale of a typewriter sent to Mollendo, Peru. This machine was sold for $78.42, although the reporter who visited the typewriter headquarters, in New York, could not purchase a similar one for less than $102.50 although he was prepared to pay cash. It is stated on good authority that the cost to manufacture these typewriters is but $18 to $20.

The reporter mentions another case "even more glaring than in the case of typewriters. He was told the following by a commission merchant on the west side: "My wife recently purchased a sewing machine for $50. It was a good machine, and we did not complain of the price; but shortly after a friend of ours who lives in San Domingo came to visit us, and seeing my wife's machine concluded to get one like it. I went to the salesroom with him and was surprised to find that he could purchase a machine similar to my wife's for $22.50. The seller would not deliver the machine to us, but had it boxed, addressed and shipped on board the steamer. This, I understood, was done to prevent Americans from coming to the store, buying machines at the export discount, on the explanation that they were foreigners, and then keeping the machines for use in this country."

The reporter adds that: "At one time it was quite a common practice to purchase machines, box them and take them to the dock of a steamer about to sail for some foreign country, and then send a dray around to unload and carry the machines back to the city just before sailing. In this way the export price could be obtained and the machines be used in this country. It is understood, however, that at present manufacturers and sellers have made arrangements to effectually put a stop to this practice."

Dozens of others articles are mentioned and the prices stated at which each is sold in our own and in foreign markets. Saws, shovels, cultivators and nearly all kinds of tools and implements are sold at from 15 to 50 per cent. less to foreigners. Saws are exported at about half what they can be had for in our own markets. One sold here for $30 can be had on board an outgoing foreign steamer at $11. A one-column article in the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin was devoted to the export prices of coal. Pennsylvania coal sold for export to the West Indies and Mexico for $1.90 per ton is sold in New York at the monopoly price of $3.

It makes one feel "as if it were a crime to be an American," as one of the victims of this monstrous fraud expressed himself to the reporter. If even one-tenth of the 60,000,000 victims of protection could have personal experience with the "special discounts for export" McKinley's hopes would not only vanish immediately, but a war on trusts would be begun that would soon annihilate the worst offenders in the pernicious business. The putting of agricultural implements and machinery on the free list and the reductions of many duties in the new tariff bill will undoubtedly stop entirely, or greatly lessen, the evils of the system; but much remains to be done. All duties that foster monopolies must be entirely abolished.

ELDER EUBANKS will preach at Laytham Chapel near Mayslick next Saturday at 3 p. m., and on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. The public cordially invited.

Jute Bagging Workers to Be Out Soon and at the Same Time the Price to Consumers Will Be Raised.

[New York World.]

Within a few days after the passage of the present tariff act the managers of the American Jute Manufacturing Company in Brooklyn notified its employees to look out for a reduction of wages. It pointed to the low wages paid in other countries and the fact that jute bagging had been placed on the free list as a justification for its proposed reduction.

Manager Norris, speaking of the change, said that 80 per cent. of the workers in jute were women, and that wages averaged $11 per week, but one of the most expert cordage men of the country said a short time ago that the wage average at these mills, including the salaries of the local superintendent and foremen, were not over $6.50 per week.

Despite the claim of the company that it would take till November 1st to find just where it stood, Anderson Gratz, the Vice-President of the company, was quoted on September 1st, in the Cordage Trade Journal, which is the organ of the bagging business, as saying, "We, (the American Jute Company) will take an order for 5,000,000 yards of bagging, deliverable in March next, at 5 per cent. under any legitimate prices obtainable anywhere on earth."

It was the same jute bagging company which was the head and front of the bagging trust, which, at one time, compelled the cotton planters of the South to pay 12 and 14 cents per yard for what is retailed at 7 1/2 cents in Louisiana to-day.

At the same time that notice was given to the employees to expect a cut in wages, consumers were notified to prepare for a raise in the price of bagging.

This shows that the trust has not the excuse of reduced selling prices for lowering wages.

Southern newspapers are advising farmers to take concerted action against the trust tactics.

PURITAN MARRIAGE CUSTOMS.

Startling Bible Texts Sometimes Selected For the Wedding Sermon.

A marriage in church was rare, writes Alice Morse Earle in The Ladies' Home Journal, in an article on "Courtship and Marriage in Puritan Days." Occasionally one took place in the new home of the young couple. This was held to be somewhat unlucky. Thanksgiving day was a favorite time to choose to be married, as friends were then gathered from afar.

The bride was universally advised to wear

Something old, something new,
Something borrowed, something blue,
and though she could dress before a mirror she must not look in the glass when once her toilet was completed, else ill luck, in vaguely defined but positive form, were the result. Sunday was really the exhibition day for the bride. Indeed she found at meeting the sole place in which she could appear before an assembled public, and for this exhibition the happy pair donned their finest bridal attire. The bride and groom and bridal party opened the show by proudly walking in a little procession through the narrow streets to the meeting house on the Sabbath following the marriage.

In Larned's "History of Windham County, Conn.," we read a description of such an amusing scene in Brooklyn, Conn. Further public notice was drawn to the bride by allowing her to choose the text for the sermon preached on the first Sunday of the coming out of the newly married couple. Much ingenuity was exercised in finding appropriate and sometimes startling Bible texts for these wedding sermons.

The instances are well known of the marriage of Parson Smith's two daughters, one of whom selected the text, "Mary hath chosen that good part," while the daughter Abby, who married John Adams, decided upon the text, "John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say he hath a devil."

HALF A CENTURY

Almost Has Passed Since He Taught at "Richland Academy," Helena.

Mr. CARMEL, Conn., September 29th, 1891.
To the Postmaster of Helena, Ky., Dear Sir: I happened recently to see the name of your town on a railroad map and was reminded thereby that I was the teacher in "Richland Academy," near Helena, in 1846.

I had as pupils twenty-four boys. After the lapse of almost half a century I recall the names of many of them. Forman, Garrison, Wells, Moss, Wheatley, Yancey and Smithers are some of the names still well remembered.

My object in writing to you is that you may give this to any of those "boys" if you can identify them. Yours respectfully,

S. H. CONKLIN.

To any and all of my former pupils in Richland Academy to whom this may come, Gentlemen: While you are photographed and held in memory as boys so that I can now recall just how you looked forty-eight years ago, yet I presume you now are so changed that I could not recognize you without an introduction. I have always hoped that I might some time visit the grand old Bluegrass State and see you again for a few days.

Of course I am aware that after the lapse of so many years perhaps some of my old Kentucky pupils are not now living. Still I hope that many of them are and that this letter will not "fall to connect," so that I can hear from you if I can not see you. I hope you will go into a committee of the whole and report progress as you have fared in life; what of your families, your labors and the results. I shall be glad to hear from all of my twenty-four boys of the old time.

I am now more than seventy years old, with children and grandchildren. Still I do not feel old nor look old. I ran a race the other day with my eight-year-old grandson and beat him. I am grateful that I still have splendid health and strength, sight and hearing. If you will answer this I will write again. Yours very truly,

S. H. CONKLIN,
Mt. Carmel, Conn.

A division of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will be organized at Ford Saturday night.

WARMING UP.

Democrats Making Things Lively All Along the Line.

Three Rousing Meetings Last Night and Three More Clubs Organized. To-night's Meetings.

The Democrats of Mason County are making things lively all along the line. Three rousing meetings were held last night and three more clubs were organized.

At Orangeburg the speakers were Judge Phister and Mr. L. W. Galbraith. The house was crowded, and the meeting was a good one. During the evening a club was organized and starts out with a good membership. Mr. A. D. Dickson was elected President and Constable W. H. Coryell Secretary. Orangeburg can always be relied upon for a rousing majority.

At Key's School House, the staunch Burr Oaks Democrats organized a club for the campaign and adopted their old name and badge. Mr. James E. Cahill was chosen President and Mr. W. H. Rice Secretary. The meeting was a large and enthusiastic one and was addressed by Mr. George W. Sulser, Mr. George R. Gill and Mr. Burgess Taylor. Commonwealth's Attorney Saltee was unable to be present, as he is at Brooksville on official business.

Judge Paynter, County Attorney Newell, Mr. F. P. O'Donnell addressed the meeting at Minerva, and during the evening the voters of that Democratic stronghold perfected the organization of their club by electing Mr. Frank Boyd, Jr., President and Mr. William Hawes Secretary. Republicans are almost "as scarce as hen's teeth" at Minerva, and all that is needed there to insure a big Democratic majority is to get out a full vote.

Meetings will be held at Germantown and Helena to-night. At Germantown, the speakers will be Judge Cole, Hon. R. K. Hart and Mr. F. P. O'Donnell; at Helena, Judge Phister, Mr. John L. Chamberlain and Mr. George W. Sulser.

The meeting at Lewisburg to-morrow night will probably be the largest ever held there. Judge Cassidy and Mr. A. O. Stanley, of Flemingsburg, will be present and deliver addresses, in addition to the speakers heretofore announced. Mr. Stanley is the young orator who charmed and delighted all who heard him at the Congressional convention here last summer. He will speak at several points in the county before the campaign closes.

Judge Paynter will speak at the meeting in Washington to-morrow night. The other speakers will be Judge Wall and Mr. F. P. O'Donnell. The Democrats of the precinct should give them a rousing reception.

OUTRAGE BY ROBBERS.

Residence Broken Into but the Expected Prize Was Safe in a Bank.

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 11.—Tuesday night two masked men battered down the door in the residence of Ellis Henderson, a wealthy resident of Lima, five miles north of this city, with a log, and before Henderson could get out of bed, had him covered with revolvers. They demanded $2,500, which Henderson had received Monday from the sale of property, and compelled Mrs. Henderson to open the safe in the room. The robbers only found $56 and ran raked the house for the balance.

Henderson finally convinced the robbers that he put the money in bank by showing them his bankbook. Besides the $50 the robbers took two gold watches, jewelry, silverware, three revolvers and two rifles. Henderson, who has been in poor health, was so mistreated by the ruffians that he may not live.

General store of Edward Paxton, in the same village, was also entered, and robbed of $600 worth of goods.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The cash balance in the treasury yesterday was $118,784,147; gold reserve, $59,810,753. The receipts so far this month amount to $6,463,234 and the expenditures $7,804,000, leaving a deficit for the 10 days of $1,335,766 and for the fiscal year to date $2,115,829. The deficit during the first three months of last year was $19,079,710, or $18,359,646 greater than for the same period this year.

Tortured and Robbed.

LIBERTY, Ind., Oct. 11.—Tuesday night two masked villains entered the residence of Mrs. Eve Harvey, 53, a widow, and after binding her hands and feet with sheets, gagged her, and at the point of a revolver demanded her money. The old lady, after enduring the men's abuse for a time, gave up what money she had. Mrs. Harvey lives north of this place on a farm.

Killed by the Cars.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Oct. 11.—Michael Clark, 9 years old, in attempting to board an outgoing train at Tyler City, this county, was thrown under the wheels. His body was crushed horribly, and he died in two hours.

Schools All Closed.

ZANESVILLE, O., Oct. 11.—Diphtheria is raging near Stovestown, and the residents of the vicinity are in great dread. Thirty houses have been quarantined and all the schools of the township have been closed.

Murder For Revenge.

HORSTON, Tex., Oct. 11.—While at dinner yesterday at the Merchants and Farmers oil mill a white laborer named Henry Gehrs was shot and killed by a co-laborer, Jim Coultrap, who had been discharged. His discharge was the cause of the difficulty. Coultrap also attempted to kill another man named Daws, but missed him.

Gasoline Stove Explosion.

PERRY, O. T., Oct. 11.—The gasoline stove of Mrs. John Stephens of Lela exploded while dinner was being prepared yesterday, and the woman and little girl were so badly burned that the latter has since died. Their little boy will also die from burns received. Assistance from men near by saved the house.

Damage Done at Long Branch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The storm damage at Long Branch is great. About 100 feet of piling of the new iron pier was washed out. The bulkhead between the Brighton and Grand View hotels is badly wrecked. A cut of about 25 feet was made in the bluff on the east end property. About 25 feet of the West End hotel was blown off and the old Oliver cottage adjoining was unroofed. So also were the cottages of H. H. Painter of Washington and E. M. Shaffer of New York. Many bath houses were washed out to sea.

Salt Lake.

"During a trip through Utah," said A. C. Lovering of Kansas City, "I witnessed a most convincing proof of the weight of the salt laden waters of the Great Salt lake. A strong gale of wind was blowing over the lake and driving its surface into low, white capped ridges, while along the shore the foam lay like flat banks of new fallen snow. If as strong a wind had passed across a lake of fresh water of equal extent, it would unquestionably have produced such an agitation of its surface that navigation in small boats would have been difficult if not highly perilous. The waves there showed a curious resistance to the wind and rose only to a slight elevation. Yet there was an immense momentum stirred up in those low, heavy, slow moving waves. I ventured into the water at a point where the depth did not exceed three feet and found that it was impossible to stand against them, as their sheer weight swept me resistlessly along. I was told that it was impossible to dive through an oncoming wave after the manner practiced by bathers along the Atlantic coast."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Murder Mystery Cleared Up.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Oct. 11.—The mystery of the murder of Gus Genesee on the railroad northwest of this village, was cleared up yesterday, when George Van Taylor, the man's chum, sent his throat and died in the jail. Taylor left letters in which he confessed to 12 murders, but as he was but 22 years old, this is believed to be imagination. He wrote that he had a partner in the Genesee murder and is glad they did not catch him. Deceased said Genesee lived in Muncie, Ind. The murderer had relatives in Cecil and Castalia, O. Evidence had been accumulating against Taylor, who had at last given up hope.

Gored by an Infuriated Cow.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 11.—A Logan county farmer, Wendell Hitchings, was gored by an infuriated cow, and it is feared that he is fatally injured. He was endeavoring to drive the animal out of the barnyard, when she turned upon him, and, planting one of her horns in his back, inflicted a serious wound. He has since been unable to move his body.

Illness of Miss Frances Willard.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Lady Somerset and Miss Frances Willard are here attending the annual convention of the Ohio Woman's Christian Temperance union. Miss Willard has been suffering from a cold contracted on the cars. Her condition is regarded as serious.

Lost His Hat and His Life.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 11.—At Blossburg, Ala., yesterday, Charles Cain was sitting on a well curbing eating cheese and crackers on a wagon that he could devour five pounds. Cain was subject to epileptic fits, and one seized him while in this position, and he fell backward into the well, which was 80 feet deep. He was drowned before help could arrive.

British Steamer Wrecked.

ABERDEEN, Oct. 11.—The British steamer Chicago, Captain Dodds, which sailed from Sunderland Tuesday for Baltimore, with a cargo of cement and wine, has been wrecked near Slains Castle, Aberdeenshire. Twenty-one of the crew were rescued. Captain Dodds and three others remained on board. There is a large hole in the steamer's forehold.

Now Is the Time to Work For Immigration.

[Southern States Magazine, Baltimore.]

Railroads and immigration companies should make special and extraordinary efforts to get Northern farmers to visit the South now, while a fair idea of the South's agricultural condition and capabilities can be had. Crops all over the South are good. Corn, of which there will be an enormous yield, is still standing in the field, and wherever a prospector might go he would find evidences of plenty and prosperity in graphic contrast with the demoralization in the drought-stricken parts of the North and West. The railroads ought to get people into the South by the thousands during the next thirty days if they have to carry them for nothing. Right now is the time to show the Northern farmer what he can do in the South.

"Side Tracked" Coming

"Side Tracked," a very bright and original comedy drama, will be seen at the opera house, October 13. Mr. Jule Walters, a clever comedian of much merit and strength, will be seen as Xerxes Haratio Booth, the tramp. The mechanical devices this season are an entire novelty. The management has the entire right of the famous columbian dance, introduced by Louise Lewellyn, a most graceful and charming dancer. "Side Tracked" should be well attended.
